INTRODUCTION/PREFACE

The Student Teaching Handbook serves as a guide to program policies and procedures, participant responsibilities, and an overview of the initial process involved in certification and subsequent readiness for employment as a professional educator. The guide does not supplant existing specific program guides, but is rather a general compendium of practices with which all student teachers must comply to qualify for certification. Information contained therein should also be of use to cooperating teachers and university supervisors in detailing expectations of respective roles during the professional semester.

For the student teacher this semester will provide both satisfying and challenging times. You will find students who are willing and eager to accept you as an instructor, and those who will be deliberately very difficult to reach. This is the position for which you have been preparing, and should be viewed as an opportunity for professional growth. Some days will be more challenging than others. Those will likely be the days when you will seek greater input from cooperating teachers, other experienced teachers, or your university supervisor. Remember the reasons that you made a conscious decision to work with students in a classroom setting, and learn from both the less successful as well as more positive teaching experiences.

It is our school-based partners to whom we want to extend our gratitude and thanks for participating in this joint venture as we partner in the final phase of preparation for our candidates. We appreciate the time and effort expended in helping to make our program successful.

CONCEPTUAL FRAMEWORK

Construct 1: Inquiry

The blend of practice and research at the university reaffirms my deeply held belief that worthwhile knowledge draws on both worlds. Indeed, the separation of practice from theory, of practitioners from scholars, is more often than not a divorce that is more symbolic than real. (Cuban, 1993, p. xxi)

Under the construct of Inquiry, and through active engagement and skilled training in multiple methods of rigorous Research, candidates in the CEHD develop the knowledge, skills, and dispositions to become Critical Thinkers. At the core of this Conceptual Framework is the concept of the collegium, in which scholarship, the activity of knowledge-seeking, is performed not in isolation but in communion and solidarity with others, both within the academy and in the world (Shulman, 2004b).

Inquiry skills may be defined as “seeking knowledge to solve problems and to achieve goals” (Kuhn, 2005, p. 5). Others may define inquiry slightly differently, including in the definition an understanding of how knowledge is generated and justified, and then using those understandings to engage in new inquiry (National Research Council, 2005). Our conception of inquiry is not merely as performance by CEHD candidates engaging in the skills of inquiry, but rather it is essential that the deeper metacognitive understandings of how, when, and why to use inquiry skills are developed. Although there are many definitions of critical thinking (Petress, 2004), this awareness of one's own thinking and reflection on the thinking of self and others is often encapsulated by the term “critical thinking” when describing traits that one wants to see in students (Kuhn & Dean, 2004). Metacognitive abilities, often enhanced by structured reflection, are critical for enabling CEHD candidates to engage independently in inquiry.

A cornerstone of inquiry is the idea of a thesis, or question, and potential evidence that bears on it. The process of constructing sound, logical arguments depends on the ability to ask good questions that address multiple facets of a problem in a clear, coherent manner; this process is also often included in the concept of “critical thinking” (Browne & Keeley, 2007). Ironist's assumptions posit that, “questions of fact, truth, correctness, validity, and clarity can neither be posed nor answered in reference to some extracontextual, ahistorical, nonsituational reality, or rule, or law, or value” (Fish, 1989, p. 344). Addressing critical thinking from this philosophical stance, Anderson (2001) claims that the most important aspect of critical thinking is that it is situational in nature. Critical thinking, like inquiry which depends on it, includes both contextual performance skills and metacognitive skills. Programs in the CEHD are designed to enhance both of these crucial critical thinking abilities of our candidates.

Research is a structured medium by which good questions are asked and answered, building the knowledge base of the field. Our CEHD candidates become critical thinkers through development of their inquiry abilities which are operationalized, tested, and refined in the real-world laboratories of schools and other educational institutions.

Construct 2: Action

Teaching, at its best, means not only transmitting knowledge, but transforming and extending it as well.... In the end, inspired teaching keeps the flame of scholarship alive. (Boyer, 1990, p. 24)

Under the construct of Action, and through routine, continual, and pervasive Practice—whether this be in the areas of pedagogy and instructional leadership, counseling, or research—candidates in the CEHD develop the knowledge, skills, and dispositions to become Problem Solvers in the community. They are encouraged to apply knowledge to solve real world and community problems. Their work, and ours, manifests collaboration and signature partnerships with partners in the metropolitan region, the state, the nation, and outside the United States. Our candidates are challenged to test the knowledge they acquire through public performance, share what they have learned with peers and professors (Shulman, 2006), and apply this knowledge in multiple settings. Through the action of testing their knowledge in applied contexts, each student is capable of becoming a teacher for many.

Shulman's categories of knowledge include knowledge of educational contexts, ranging from the workings of the group or classroom, the governance and financing of school districts, to the characteristics of communities and cultures (Norlander-Case, Reagan, and Case, 1999). Knowing educational ends, purposes, values, and the philosophical and historical foundations of these are inherent to understanding that teaching occurs at the crossroads of complex disciplines interacting with diverse and complex learners (Strong, 2002).

Effective educators emphasize meaning, recognize that students are multi-faceted individuals, and understand the relationship of ideas and experiences to learning in and out of classrooms (Marzano, Pickering, & Pollock, 2001). CEHD candidates learn to construct knowledge through interpreting, analyzing, and evaluating. They draw conclusions based on understanding; make and support problem-based solutions; and connect learning to authentic settings. The role of theory-to practice connections in authentic teaching and learning experiences has been found to have a significant impact on student achievement (Newmann et al., 2001).

With a backdrop of educational foundations, our CEHD candidates' repertoires of research-based strategies are a key dimension of overall educational effectiveness. In programmatic courses and experiences, candidates employ a range of strategies and develop and regularly integrate inquiry-based, hands-on learning activities, critical thinking skills, and assessments to reach all learners. Our candidates are effective teachers who stress the importance of high level cognitive processes, including problem-solving techniques, analytical thinking skills, and creativity. They design and model learning experiences that connect learning to authentic, real world context. In their university, field and clinical experiences, candidates learn about the challenges of schools and other community settings and recognize that a broad repertoire of approaches, including collaboration with other professionals, will create ideas and solutions based on multiple, informed perspectives.

Construct 3: Advocacy

Scholarship should be promoted, as zealously as though it were an end unto itself, but the final appraisal of scholarship should be, not its prestige with scholars, but its value to human life. (Albion Small, as cited in Shulman, 2004a, p. 216)

Under the construct of Advocacy, and through dedicated, committed Service to their peers, university, community, and world, candidates in the CEHD develop the knowledge, skills, and dispositions to become Professional Leaders. As Shulman (2006) stated, through practice, theoretical principles become commitments engraved on the heart. The CEHD exists in a metropolitan community and a world marked by diversity. Diversity has many dimensions, encompassing, among other things, ethnicity, gender, socioeconomic status, age, national origin, English language proficiency, and exceptional ability. Our duty to further diversity implies that we empower our candidates and others to participate fully in the life of the community in which we live, to practice social justice, and to seek equity of educational access for all the constituents we serve.

Social justice serves as a framework unifying the teaching and scholarship across disciplines in the CEHD around the constructs of inquiry, action, and advocacy. As a College, we encompass a wide array of research and instructional interests. Therefore the conception of social justice, which guides us, is both comprehensive, covering multiple dimensions suitable for an institution with a range of programs and a diverse student body, and specific, employing defined and demonstrable understandings. Within individual departments and disciplines as well as a collective Unit, the CEHD furthers university and college wide initiatives to build the knowledge, skills, efficacy, and urgency to address community-based problems and lead toward better solutions. This integration of social justice impacts the practice of educators at the college, the experiences of our students, and as well as the program policies under which we operate. (McDonald, 2005).

As elucidated in our mission, the CEHD is committed to honoring diversity and furthering social justice work. This mission is reflected by values rooted in a human ecology situated in a democratic society. Values such as equity and social justice compel us to utilize inquiry, action, and advocacy to deepen and extend the construct of democracy in our pluralistic society (Parker, 2003). There are two important components of how a social justice perspective impacts our programs and how it is deliberately embedded in the work of students and faculty.

The first component addresses who we believe is responsible for addressing ideological questions of education for social justice: “What is the purpose of schooling, what is the role of public education in a democratic society, and what historically has been the role of schooling in maintaining or changing the economic and social structure of society?” (Cochran-Smith, 2004, p. 144). At the University of Louisville, we view these questions as the charge of faculty and candidates as they promote knowledge in community through research, practice, and service. Specifically, both candidates and faculty build individual and collective capacities within their roles as contributing members to a democratic society through their positions as teachers, counselors, instructional leaders, researchers, and members of the community.

The second component considers how the communities connected to our lives and work contextualize social justice. As a state supported university located in an urban area, social justice perspectives impact our understandings of what is taught, to whom and why. Specifically, we are committed to the core assumption of the groundbreaking Kentucky Educational Reform Act: All children can learn. To realize this assumption, we employ research-based pedagogical, counseling, and administrative practices to facilitate learning that is relevant, dynamic, and transformative.

UNIVERSITY MISSION STATEMENT

The University of Louisville shall be a premier, nationally recognized metropolitan research university with a commitment to the liberal arts and sciences and to the intellectual, cultural and economic development of our diverse communities and citizens through the pursuit of excellence in five interrelated strategic areas: (1) educational experience, (2) research, creative, and scholarly activity, (3) accessibility, diversity, equity, and communication, (4) partnerships and collaborations, and (5) institutional effectiveness of programs and services.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT MISSION STATEMENT

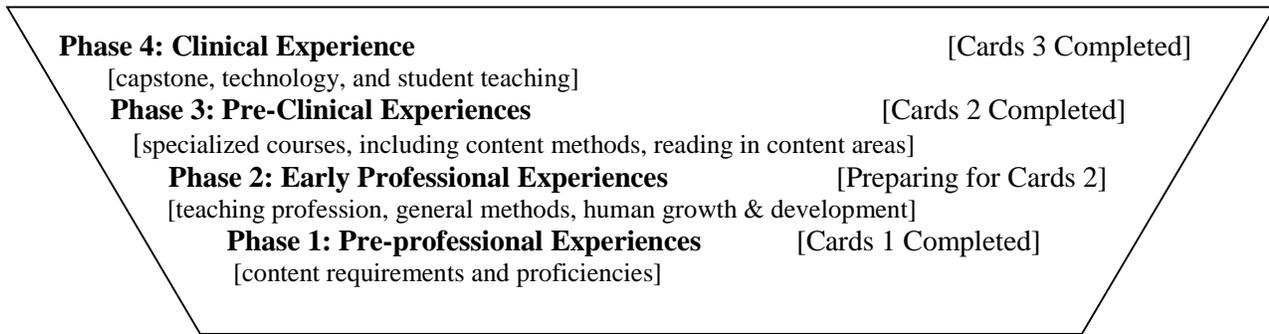

The mission of the College of Education and Human Development is to achieve the outcomes worthy of a top tier college of education at a preeminent metropolitan research university. The College seeks to integrate the strengths of the university with those of our partners in communities, in the private sector, in public agencies, and among policy makers. The goal of this integration is to promote the highest ideals of learning and achievement for all students and the positive development of and well being of children, youth, adult learners, and families.

Our work is shaped by fundamental commitments to honoring diversity and to furthering social justice. We seek to ensure that, through teaching, research, policy analysis and service, all individuals and families are healthy, fully prepared, and empowered to participate in the institutions and economic activities of a diverse democratic society. Our commitments lead us to be advocates for change, namely the change needed so that our clients and constituents can reach their full potential.

We prepare students to be exemplary professional practitioners and scholars. A component of our preparation is emphasis on critical thinking; this enables inquiring students to use methods of research to build knowledge. We prepare students to generate, use, and disseminate knowledge about teaching, learning, leadership, disease prevention and health promotion in public and private sector organizations. We prepare them to collaborate with others to solve critical human problems in a diverse global community.

An important part of our mission is stewardship of place. By stewardship we mean responsiveness to our constituents, including school districts, local agencies, and organizations that seek to advance education and human development. Through collaborative research, teaching, and outreach partnerships, we seek to advance knowledge and understanding across our disciplines and constituencies. Our commitment to action can be seen in our practices: to help solve problems that are challenges to the community we serve. We do this to inform policy, improve practice, strengthen communities, and address pressing societal concerns. By Inquiry, Action, and Advocacy we seek to develop educational, economic and social conditions and resources required to improve the quality of life for citizens in the state of Kentucky, the nation, and the global community.

FROM IDEAS TO ACTION: U OF L DEVELOPMENTAL TEACHER PREPARATION MODEL

OVERVIEW OF U OF L MODEL

From Ideas to Action: U of L Developmental Teacher Preparation (DTP) Model is grounded in the CEHD Conceptual framework and KY Teacher Standards. In each phase candidates focus on particular standards and components within the conceptual framework, building towards deep understanding across all standards and accomplishing the goal of the CF of becoming critical thinkers, problem solvers, and professional leaders. In Phase 1 (Pre-professional) candidates learn ideas related to the content they will teach, focusing on KY Standards for content and professional growth, and the CEHD Diversity Standard. In the BS programs, this is primarily their freshman and sophomore years; in the MAT, this is many of the prerequisite courses they take. In Phase 2 (Early professional experiences), candidates expand on their content, learning general education concepts and learning theory. Standards assessed in this phase are: planning, climate, reflection, collaboration, professional growth, and diversity. Courses include Human Growth and development, General Methods, and Exploring Teaching/Teaching as a Profession. By Phase 3 (Advanced Professional) candidates begin to apply their content and general education knowledge experiences to their specific area(s) of teaching. Courses include content-specific methods, reading in the content areas, and special education courses. In this phase, ideas move to action, as candidates are actively participating in schools, teaching lessons, assessing students, and reflecting on teaching. Phase 4 (Culminating Experience) involves demonstration action across all KY teacher standards. Action moves to advocacy, as candidates focus their experiences on supporting the learning of every child.

OFFICE OF EDUCATOR DEVELOPMENT AND CLINICAL PRACTICE

<http://louisville.edu/education/field-placement>

The Office of Educator Development and Clinical Practice (OEDCP) at the University of Louisville is housed in the Raphael O. Nystrand Center of Excellence in Education. The Nystrand Center's purpose is to develop, implement and study collaborative efforts to improve teaching. The OEDCP facilitates field and clinical placements working with a variety of district and community partners, collects and organizes placement and assessment data, and ensures compliance to state regulations which govern field and clinical experiences. The OEDCP also serves as a regional site for the Kentucky Teacher Internship Program and supports the Alternative Certification Program.

Field Experience and Clinical Practice Placement Policy

The Office Educator Development and Clinical Practice (OEDCP) places candidates in field and clinical placement sites that are aligned with the College of Education and Human Development's mission statement and Conceptual Framework. Ideas to Action, our conceptual framework, is grounded in the notion that candidates become critical thinkers, problem solvers, and leaders through Inquiry, Action and Advocacy-all active qualities that require significant field and clinical experiences. Each field and clinical experience is mapped to the Conceptual Framework and includes performance-based tasks that are assessed using rubrics that include components from national, state and professional standards.

Placement Sites Field and clinical placements are arranged in collaboration with established partners, which include our two largest partners-Jefferson County Public Schools (JCPS) and the Ohio Valley Educational Cooperative (OVEC). The OEDCP coordinates placements based on various factors, including state mandates, previous placements and experiences, personal/work connections, experiences with diverse learners, career aspirations, and strengths and needs of the candidate as determined by the candidate, the university supervisor and/or faculty advisor. Candidates may indicate district preference when completing the Student Teaching Application; however, all placements are contingent on identifying a qualified mentor and university supervisor as well as consideration of the factors listed above. For student teaching placements outside of our regional area, candidates must submit a written request to the OEDCP Placement Office.

School districts recommend school sites based upon a number of factors including effective mentors and diverse student populations. The OEDCP is involved in regular and frequent communication concerning student placements with the JCPS Director of Human Resources, JCPS Coordinator of the Kentucky Teacher Internship Program and the Coordinator of Student Teachers; the OVEC Director of District Support and Director of Special Initiatives; and district and community leaders throughout the service region.

Placement Procedure Field and clinical experiences represent a variety of early and ongoing school-based and community-based opportunities, in which candidates work in classroom settings to assist, tutor, instruct, conduct applied research, reflect and analyze under the direction of a certified teacher or educational director. A Field Experience Placement Form completed by candidates provides information needed to secure the appropriate type of placement. The OEDCP tracks placements to ensure candidates have access to a variety of urban, suburban and/or rural settings and experiences with student populations diverse in cultural, economic, linguistic and special needs.

The CEHD has formed a variety of partnerships. Elementary, middle and high schools have been designated as Early Professional Experience Sites, which allow candidates a first look at the teaching profession in an effective learning community. The CEHD has a number of designated partner schools in both JCPS and OVEC in which candidates and school personnel have on-going and job embedded school and university support. The district and school leadership work in concert with the OEDCP and CEHD Program Directors to place candidates with educators in these schools. District/university supported grants have opened up avenues to expand the clinical model.

The OEDCP officially requests placements by contacting a designated administrator at each district-approved site. The request may specify a particular educator(s) or ask for an administrator recommendation using agreed upon selection criteria. A brief description and purpose of the field experience, the number of field hours required, the description of candidate activities and the role of the mentor/cooperating teacher is provided.

Once a candidate placement is confirmed, school administrators and mentor/cooperating teachers are notified through email of the placement with a more detailed description of roles and responsibilities. The school contact person is provided a list of all candidates assigned to that site. For clinical placements a Cooperating Teacher Training/Orientation is offered which provide state mandated content. Candidates are notified of their placements and the expectations for the field and clinical assignment through their course instructor, university supervisor and/or OEDCP personnel.

Diversity in Field Experiences and Clinical Practice

Diversity is a shared vision for our efforts in preparing teachers, administrators, school counselors and other professionals. In order to foster perspectives consistent with this vision, candidates investigate and gain a current perspective of diversity issues (race, ethnicity, language, religion, culture, SES, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, military status, disability, ability, age, national origin, geographic location) through field experiences and clinical practice. Placement data is collected and analyzed to ensure that candidates have an opportunity for placements in a variety of settings serving diverse student populations.

PURPOSE OF STUDENT TEACHING

Clinical experiences are designed to familiarize candidates with various contexts and components of the education process. Understanding classroom demeanor, policies of state and district bodies, and other school-related issues help to ensure a student-focused instructor who can create a meaningful learning environment.

The student teaching experience allows for demonstration of skills acquired in previous placements, and encourages extension of these abilities as candidates apply educational theories and methodologies required for certification eligibility. The student teacher works with one or more cooperating teachers and a university supervisor.

Student teachers will have opportunities to:

- Apply knowledge constructed during initial phases of the Teacher Education Program
- Employ methods and materials that engage all learners and that are research-based
- Develop school community interpretive skills
- Refine a personal teaching philosophy
- Learn curricular expectations
- Demonstrate understanding and proficiency of Kentucky's Teacher Standards

To meet regulatory requirements outlined in 16 KAR 5:040, student teachers shall have opportunities to:

- Engage in extended co-teaching experiences with an experienced teacher;
- Engage in reflective self-assessment that informs practice;
- Maintain regular professional conversations with experienced teachers other than the cooperating teacher;
- Participate in regular and extracurricular school activities;
- Participate in professional decision making; and
- Engage in collegial interaction and peer review with other student teachers

APPROVAL FOR STUDENT TEACHING

Each department determines the final eligibility to student teach (Art Education, Early Childhood and Elementary Education (ECEE), Health and Sport Sciences (HSS), Middle and Secondary Education (MISE), Music Education (MUED), and Special Education (SPED)).

1. Students from a minimum of two (2) different ethnic or cultural groups of which the candidate would not be considered a member;
2. Students from different socioeconomic groups;
3. English language learners;

4. Students with disabilities; and

- Completed Promoting Positive Behavior in Schools Training (PPBSI)
- Participated in Student Teaching Orientation

INSTITUTIONAL POLICIES

Per Kentucky Education Professional Standards Board regulation, 16 KAR 5:040, all teacher candidates must complete supervised student teaching in an approved classroom to be eligible for certification. “The educator preparation institution shall provide a full professional semester to include a period of student teaching for a minimum of seventy (70) full days, or its equivalent, in instructional settings that correspond to the grade levels and content areas of the student teacher’s certification program.” The University of Louisville adheres to this statute by requiring a 15-week commitment to earn student teaching credit hours, plus additional days if needed to meet the seventy-day requirement. University supervisors review and sign a calendar, which requires teacher candidates to verify each day of attendance. Student teachers who cannot complete the time required prior to the established deadline for submission of grades will receive an incomplete (I) grade until the requirement has been met.

Attendance:

Student teachers are expected to be in attendance all day every school day for the duration of the assignment.

- The assignment begins the first day district teachers must report to schools at the beginning of the student teaching semester not the first day that the university begins the semester.
- Student teachers follow the district calendar for holidays and scheduled breaks. Student teachers do not follow the university calendar for fall or spring breaks.
- Student teachers are required to attend site-scheduled meetings, conferences, and professional development activities.

If unable to attend school for any reason, it is the responsibility of the student teacher to notify the cooperating teacher and the university supervisor of the absence prior to the beginning of the school day, and to submit lesson plans or other materials as appropriate to fulfill professional responsibilities. The seventy-day requirement is not waived for illness. Candidates must continue in the placement until the days are met.

Attendance at professional conferences:

Student teachers may spend one day or two half days during the student teaching semester attending a) conferences of professional organizations or b) participating in other approved professional development experiences. Either of these activities requires prior approval of the university supervisor, in consultation with the student’s cooperating teacher. Validation of attendance at professional conferences or professional development activities in the form of a certificate of attendance must be presented to the university supervisor and/or cooperating teacher. Students are encouraged to share their experiences with others at the school site. With EPSB approval, the day may be considered as a required “instructional day.”

Participation in job-seeking ventures:

Student teachers may spend up to one day or two half days during the student teaching semester participating in interviews, school visits or other activities related to securing a teaching position. This leave time must have prior approval of the university supervisor, in consultation with the cooperating teacher. Evidence of participation must be presented to the university supervisor.

Confidentiality:

In compliance with the Kentucky School Personnel Code of Ethics student teachers ...”shall keep in confidence all information about students...” It is an expectation of the University that this commitment to confidentiality be upheld.

Degree and Certification:

It is the responsibility of the student teacher to submit degree and certification applications during the semester prior to graduation. The applications should be submitted during the Capstone Seminar, if applicable.

Academic Integrity and Dishonesty

All contributions and assessments, including any field placement requirements, will demonstrate academic integrity which means that submitted work is of high quality, is original, and represents a single submission, unless otherwise noted through explicit and appropriate citations.

“Academic dishonesty is prohibited at the University of Louisville...Academic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Cheating
- Fabrication
- Falsification
- Multiple Submission [the same assignment should not be submitted for more than one course]
- Plagiarism
- Complicity in Academic Dishonesty” (U of L Code of Conduct, Section 5)

Plagiarism:

<http://louisville.edu/graduatecatalog/code-of-student-conduct>

Representing the words or ideas of someone else as one’s own in any academic exercise, such as the following:

- a. submitting as one’s own a paper written by another person or by a commercial “ghost writing” service
- b. exactly reproducing someone else’s words without identifying the words with quotation marks or by appropriate indentation, or without properly citing the quotation in a footnote or reference
- c. paraphrasing or summarizing someone else’s work without acknowledging the source with a footnote or reference
- d. using facts, data, graphs, charts, or other information without acknowledging the source with a footnote or reference

Borrowed facts or information obtained in one’s research or reading must be acknowledged unless recognized as “common knowledge.” Clear examples of “common knowledge” include names of leaders of prominent nations, basic scientific laws, and the meaning of fundamental concepts and principles in a discipline. The specific audience for which a paper is written may determine what can be view as “common knowledge”: for example, the facts commonly known by a group of chemists will differ radically from those known by a more general audience. Students should check with their instructors regarding what can be viewed as “common knowledge” within a specific field or assignment, but often the student will have to make the final judgment. When in doubt, footnotes or references should be used.

Discipline Procedures for Academic Dishonesty:

Charges of academic dishonesty shall be handled through the appropriate academic unit level procedures. An academic unit that determines that a student is guilty of academic dishonesty may impose any academic punishment on the student that it sees fit, including suspension or expulsion from the academic unit. A student has no right to appeal the final decision of an academic unit. However, a student who believes he or she has been treated unfairly, has been discriminated against, or has had his or her rights abridged by the academic unit may file a grievance with the Unit Grievance Committee, pursuant to the provisions of the Student Academic Grievance Procedure; the Academic Grievance Committee may not substitute its judgment on the merits for the judgment of the academic unit.

An academic unit that suspends or expels a student from the academic unit because the student has been found guilty of academic dishonesty may recommend to the University Provost in writing that the student also be suspended or expelled from all other programs and academic units of the University. Within four weeks of receiving such a recommendation, the Provost shall issue a written decision. Neither the student nor the academic unit shall have the right to appeal the Provost's decision. However, a student who believes that he or she has been treated unfairly, has been discriminated against, or has had his or her rights abridged by the issuance of a decision by the Provost may file a grievance with the University Student Grievance Committee, pursuant to the provisions of the Student Academic Grievance Procedure; the University Student Academic Grievance Committee may not substitute its judgment on the merits for the judgment of the Provost.

Request for Student Teaching Placement Outside Established Partner Districts

Student teacher candidates are placed in sites that are aligned with the College of Education and Human Development's mission statement and Conceptual Framework. Placements are arranged in collaboration with established partners, which include our two largest partners - Jefferson County Public Schools (JCPS) and the Ohio Valley Educational Cooperative (OVEC).

The Office of Educator Development and Clinical Practice (OEDCP), JCPS, and OVEC leadership coordinate placements of all candidates to ensure that candidates are supported throughout the experience. In addition, a Capstone Seminar Course, which meets once a week on campus, is a critical component of the support offered to student teachers. The Capstone Seminar offers an opportunity to collaborate within a critical friends' network and provides support for the completion of the Hallmark Assessment Tasks (HATs) required for graduation and certification. *

A student teacher candidate requesting a placement other than those assigned through an established partner district or requesting a guest placement through another university must be a strong candidate in good standing, demonstrating the ability to work independently. Any placement is contingent on the OEDCP and/or district leadership finding a qualified mentor and a U of L university supervisor and approval by the appropriate program faculty.

In addition to requirements outlined in the U of L CEHD Student Teaching and Clinical Practice Application, candidates requesting an alternative site placement must meet the following criteria:

- Over-all grade point of 3.5 (MAT) or 3.25 (B.A.)
- Written recommendation of Advisor and Methods Instructor
- Pre-Approval of Capstone Seminar Instructor as to method of completing all required assignments (e.g., independent study, participation via SKYPE)

[Note: candidates completing the Capstone Seminar off-campus must complete all assignments including participating in a critical friends' network and communicating weekly with Capstone Instructor.]

Candidates requesting a guest placement through another university must also meet any requirements set forth by that university.

*Elementary MAT Candidates do not participate in a structured Capstone Seminar. Support is provided through meetings with university supervisors on site and targeted seminar sessions on campus.

Legal Action:

In addition to the initial background checks, charges of violation of criminal law or evidence of a criminal record against anyone in field placements will result in suspension from the Teacher Education Program and/or student teaching until the case is resolved. Student teachers must assume responsibility for reporting such charges to the assistant dean for student services.

PRAXIS Testing for Certification:

Student teacher candidates must successfully complete the PRAXIS in order to be eligible for a teaching position. Student teachers are responsible for testing expense. Information may be found online at <http://www.ets.org/praxis>

Many programs offered through the College of Education & Human Development may require a standardized test for admission, program completion, and/or certification. The University of Louisville's Testing Services offers additional information on individual tests and is an official testing site for many of the tests.

<http://louisville.edu/education/admissions/testing>

Calendar/Vacations:

Student teaching dates correspond with those of the school and district of placement. District vacation schedules will be followed by the student teacher, including beginning semester dates. Questions or concerns should be directed to the university supervisor or program director.

Medical Examination:

State regulation requires that a record or report from a valid and current medical examination, which includes a tuberculosis (TB) risk assessment, be part of the admission to student teaching. Current has been defined as within the year of student teaching. A University of Louisville Medical Examination for Admission to Student Teaching has been created outlining the information needed. This form is collected and kept on file by the Office of Educator Development and Clinical Practice (OEDCP). Other standard medical examination forms will also be accepted. Teacher candidates, who may have a current medical examination on file at the district level, must arrange for a copy of this exam to be sent to the OEDCP prior to the beginning of student teaching.

LEGAL ISSUES RELATED TO STUDENT TEACHING

According to regulation 16 KAR 5:040, “the educator preparation institution shall provide opportunities for the student teacher to assume major responsibility for the full range of teaching duties, including extended co-teaching experiences, in a real school situation under the guidance of qualified personnel from the educator preparation institution and the cooperating elementary, middle, or high school. The educator preparation program and the school district shall make reasonable efforts to place student teachers in settings that provide opportunities for the student teacher to develop and demonstrate the practical skills, knowledge, and professional dispositions essential to help all P-12 students learn and develop.” Although the student teacher assigned to a school will assume major responsibility for a full range of teaching duties, it is the cooperating teacher who is the person legally responsible for the class to which he/she is assigned.

- Student teachers may not assume full responsibility of the classroom without the supervision of a certified teacher who is employed by the school district.
- The student teacher MAY NOT serve as a substitute teacher during student teaching placement. A regular or substitute teacher employed by the district must be present in the classroom when the student teacher is teaching.

This policy is based on various opinions delivered from the attorney general’s office, and reflected in KRS 161.042. The student teacher does not yet have a regular or emergency teaching certificate from the Department of Education and therefore is not authorized to teach except under supervision.

Student teachers are covered by University of Louisville insurance (see Professional Liability Insurance Coverage) but may also purchase another policy.

Educator Legal Liability coverage describes a policy that covers wrongful acts of employees, including student teachers, operating within the scope of their duties. Wrongful acts include failure to educate, fiscal irresponsibility, libel and slander, discrimination invasion of privacy, broadcasting or telecasting activities.

Questions may be directed to Risk Management at <http://louisville.edu/riskmanagement>

PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE COVERAGE

For University of Louisville Pre-service Teachers
In Required Field Placements

The University of Louisville provides professional liability insurance coverage for student teachers in field placements required by their programs. However, students are advised that they can secure additional coverage through various private carriers of their choice to supplement this coverage. Please note that some insurance policies exclude or limit coverage if other insurance is applicable. Students should review the terms and conditions prior to purchasing any policy. The University of Louisville and the College of Education and Human Development do not endorse any insurance carrier, but do make students aware that organizations such as the National Education Association/Kentucky Education Association – Student Program (NEA/KEA-SP) provide insurance coverage through student memberships.

The Kentucky Association of Professional Educators provides up to $2 million in coverage of activities conducted in the member's professional capacity. The website is <http://www.kentuckyteachers.org/insurance.htm>

PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS

University of Louisville students who are in pre-service teaching roles are expected to contribute to the creation of a positive and effective climate with peers, teachers and faculty in field and clinical placements and U of L courses. Critical dispositions, as defined by InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, are those habits of professional action and moral commitment that underlie how teachers act in practice.

The CEHD Dispositions Assessment has been influenced by program data collection, the InTASC Model Core Teaching Standards, the Teacher Professional Growth Effectiveness System and the Council for Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP) Standards and other current research.

The InTASC offers the following: “Creating and supporting safe, productive learning environments that result in learners achieving at the highest levels is a teacher’s primary responsibility. To do this well, teachers must engage in meaningful and intensive professional learning and self-renewal by regularly examining practice through ongoing study, self-reflection, and collaboration.” This self-reflection is a key element to the Teacher Professional Growth Effectiveness System, a process by which teachers among other elements assess dispositions for the purpose of self-improvement.

Instructors, mentor and cooperating teachers and university supervisors assess candidate dispositions as they progress through the U of L Developmental Teacher Preparation Model or Clinical Model. The Teacher Candidate Dispositions Assessment is reviewed at mid-point as a requirement for admission into student teaching.

Teacher Candidate Dispositions looks at three (3) key areas:

- Professional Commitment and Responsibility
- Professional Relationships
- Critical Thinking and Reflective Practice

Evaluators assess each of ten (10) dispositions guided by the examples of indicated, observable behaviors.

- Follows through with responsibilities; prompt, prepared, dependable and organized
- Demonstrates motivation and initiative
- Demonstrates professionalism through ethical teaching behavior
- Demonstrates patience, flexibility, and responsiveness in a variety of situations
- Develops positive relationships with peers, teachers and others; and works collaboratively with them
- Develops positive relationships with stakeholders (i.e., students, staff, families, and other school personnel)
- Respects and affirms students’ differences and potential; treats students fairly and equitably
- Demonstrates intellectual curiosity; seeks and considers new information, strategies, and perspectives
- Accepts feedback and makes necessary changes
- Reflects accurately about own behavior, attitudes, performance, impact on others, and makes necessary changes

PERFORMANCE ISSUES AND CONCERNS

Performance Issues and Concerns

Issues and concerns related to performance in the university classroom, field and clinical placements and any other capacity related to the program in Teacher Education may arise. A Communication of Concern and Intensive Assistance Plan are two established protocols developed to establish a plan of action and document a process toward resolution.

Communication of Concern

A university professor/instructor, teaching candidate, mentoring/cooperating teacher, university supervisor, or other stakeholders involved in the candidate's progress may initiate a Communication of Concern. A Communication of Concern describes and establishes a date to discuss the concern among the teaching candidate, university professor/instructor, mentoring/cooperating teacher, university supervisor, advisor and/or other interested parties.

A Communication of Concern will be issued to a candidate:

- If absent TWICE from a course that meets once weekly, or THREE times in a course that meets twice weekly. Candidates MUST initiate a meeting with the course instructor to determine whether he/she will still be able to pass the course with the acceptable grade required by the program and if the candidate can devote the necessary time to the course. Extenuating situations will be considered on an individual basis. If a candidate were to miss the course an additional time, the course instructor will schedule a meeting with the candidate and the program director to complete a Communication of Concern. This may impact a candidate's continuation in the program. This comes from EDTP Attendance Policy

A Communication of Concern may be issued to a candidate for:

1. habitual tardies;
2. late assignments;
3. failure to complete assignments within the course/field placement after meeting with your instructor/university supervisor to get clarification and assistance;
4. failure to communicate with the instructor/university supervisor as required.
5. failure to demonstrate adequate academic progress;
6. demonstrating competencies and dispositions that do not meet the criteria for the pre-service teacher program; and
7. other actions at the discretion of the instructor/university supervisor.

Using the Communication of Concern form, the committee members create in writing a plan of action for addressing the concern, including the support that will be provided by each appropriate member and a date by which the plan of action is to be completed. Possible consequences will be specified if the action plan does not lead to the resolution of the concern. The result of the follow-up may also lead to the decision that an Intensive Assistance Plan is needed.

Intensive Assistance Plan (IAP)

An Intensive Assistance Plan is initiated to communicate the serious nature of a concern that raises in question the successful completion of the program. Like a Communication of Concern, an IAP meeting can be scheduled upon the recommendation of the teaching candidate, cooperating teacher, university supervisor, or other stakeholder who feels that intensive assistance is necessary for a candidate's progress.

An IAP Advising Committee follows a series of procedural steps to review the documentation, discuss the resources and intensive assistance needed and specify the behaviors the candidate will need to demonstrate to continue in the program.

Intensive Assistance Plan

It is the goal of the U of L Faculty to do all that is possible to enable students in the program to successfully complete the program. In that spirit, the following plan was designed to:

- a. let candidates know when serious concerns have been raised about their likelihood of successfully completing the program;
- b. offer intensive assistance to those candidates;
- c. document what behaviors candidates will need to demonstrate within a particular time period in order to continue in the program; and
- d. document the kinds of resources and assistance that will be made available to the candidate.

Initiation of the Intensive Assistance Plan (IAP) An IAP meeting will be scheduled upon the recommendation of any of the following:

1. The candidate him/herself, should s/he become concerned about progress or lack thereof;
2. Any of the mentor teachers working with the candidate;
3. The principal;
4. The university supervisor working with the candidate;
5. Any of the methods professors/instructors.

Concerns must be documented in order for a meeting to be scheduled. Documentation may include, but is not limited to: candidate assignments, observation forms, performance review, absence/tardy records, informal communications, weekly action plans, working portfolio, etc.

PROCEDURAL STEPS

Step 1

Upon recommendation of one of the above-listed persons and presentation of documentation, the candidate's supervisor will schedule a meeting of the "candidate's advising committee" to discuss the concerns, gather multiple perspectives, and decide if an Intensive Assistance Plan should be implemented. The advisory committee shall consist of the following people:

- University Supervisor
- Mentor teacher(s)
- Candidate's advisor
- Methods professors (one in each of the candidate's teaching disciplines)
- Candidate (only if s/he initiated the recommendation)

Others may be involved depending on the relevance of their input

Step 2

If the Advising Committee feels there is sufficient concern to warrant an IAP, they will meet with the candidate. After considering the candidate's input, if the committee decides to proceed with an IAP, they will notify the candidate in writing.

Step 3

The committee will meet (without the candidate) and indicate in writing:

1. what changes need to occur
2. behavioral indicators of those changes and relevant sources of documentation
3. dates by which change must be demonstrated
4. resources that will be provided to the candidate to facilitate such changes.

All committee members will sign the IAP, indicating their willingness to uphold its requirements and provide assistance as listed in the plan.

Step 4

The candidate's advisor will meet with him/her to explain all elements of the IAP, answer questions, etc. The candidate will be required to sign the IAP, acknowledging understanding that if the conditions are not met, s/he will not be able to continue in the program. The advisor will also secure the signatures of any other people listed in the plan as assistance providers. Copies of the plan, signed by all, will be given to the candidate, everyone on the committee, and those otherwise directly involved in the IAP. A copy will also be placed in the candidate's file.

Step 5

Participants will implement the IAP, documenting all assistance provided, whether it was required by the plan or not. The candidate and involved professionals will collect behavioral indicators as indicated in the IAP (e.g. Teacher Observation Chart, Weekly Action Plans, Performance Reviews, reviews of working portfolio, lesson plans, course assignments, documentation of relevant conversations, etc.).

Step 6

On or soon after the date indicated on the IAP, the candidate's advisory committee will meet to examine all behavioral indicators and documentation, and then decide if the IAP has been satisfactorily completed. If so, they will document progress made and assistance provided and place the plan in the candidate's file. If not, the advisor will schedule a meeting with the candidate to discuss the lack of satisfactory compliance with the plan, his/her termination from the program at this time, and any options for future participation in U of L teacher certification programs.

ROLES, RESPONSIBILITIES, AND RELATIONSHIPS

Professionalism	37
Correspondence and Communication	38
Appropriate Contacts	39
Role of the Student Teacher	40
Role of the Cooperating Teacher	44
Tuition Benefit Eligibility	49
Role of the University Supervisor	50
Steps to Completing a Formal Observation	52

PROFESSIONALISM

Expected – and accepted – teacher behaviors should become part of the demeanor of student teachers. All educators must practice dispositions recognized as essential by this profession. Consequently these dispositions are centered in the Professional Code of Ethics established by the Education Professional Standards Board. All education faculty and practicing educators agree to abide by these principles.

Expectations of the Student Teacher Candidate

Dress and appearance during clinical practice should conform to the norm of the school and district. During this time student teachers are viewed as guests of the school and district, and should maintain discrete behavior. Be aware that inappropriate behaviors outside of school may impact negatively when applying for a paid faculty position.

Working directly with students in a classroom will provide opportunity for demonstration of acquired skills. The actual teaching experience will provide both satisfying and frustrating periods during the semester. Both the cooperating teacher and the university supervisor will serve as mentors for all experiences. This cooperative approach is intended to make the semester one that is successful in all respects.

Responsibilities associated with this role include but are not limited to:

- review of the handbook with the cooperating teacher
- adherence to school rules, policies, procedures regarding discipline and school safety
- communication with school personnel in a professional, respectful manner
- seeking constructive criticism of both the cooperating teacher and the university supervisor
- maintaining a professional demeanor at all times
- successful completion of all certification requirements

Supervision of Student Teachers

Primary responsibility for supervision of student teachers lies with the cooperating teacher and the university supervisor. Guidance of instructional practice and feedback of progress expands professional growth that is desirable in candidates. Data that is collected will include observations, both formal and informal. This is part of the assessment process used in determination of grades.

The Cooperating Teacher

Arguably the single most critical influence on the quality of the student teaching experience is the cooperating teacher. This is the person who works closely with the student teacher on a daily basis to provide a link between theory and application of prior training. During the initial or orientation conference, textbooks, curriculum guides, daily schedules, sample lesson plans, sample report cards, school/district report cards and handbooks, and other materials of significance should be available to the student teacher.

Prior to the arrival of the student teacher, it is suggested that students in the classroom be prepared by:

- explaining that there will be two teachers in the classroom for a period of weeks;
- giving examples of how the teachers will work together; and
- explaining expectations of the class with the additional teacher.

CORRESPONDENCE AND COMMUNICATION

The primary form of communication with student teacher candidates and the University of Louisville College of Education and Human Development will be via the University email account. No personal accounts will be used for sending email; only the U of L account will be utilized for transmitting messages. Do not rely on mail forwarding as many messages may be blocked and critical information not transmitted. Student teacher candidates will need to check on a weekly, if not daily, basis for important information concerning placement, significant calendar dates or modifications, upcoming events, and graduation/commencement activities. It is the responsibility of the student teacher to read email in order to remain apprised of pertinent information. If a student believes an email contact has failed please contact the Helpdesk at 502-852-7997 or by email at helpdesk (@) louisville.edu.

APPROPRIATE CONTACTS

How to Get the Best Out of Your Experience (and Be Professional)

Be proactive in seeking the guidance, structure, and ideas that will be helpful in your growth as a teacher. If you do not believe that the placement to which you are assigned is meeting your needs, below is a suggested professional protocol to use to approach the issue:

- 1) Speak with the cooperating teacher or mentor teacher. Ask for what you need. Let the teacher know that you would benefit from having more of “this,” or opportunities to do “that.” Have specific examples to share that would be most helpful.
- 2) If the teacher is not responsive to requests, step 2 is to talk with your supervisor and only to the supervisor. It is not professional to talk with other candidates, teachers, or even U of L faculty without first consulting the person whose job it is to help you have a successful field experience. The supervisor will work with you to design a manner for handling the situation that is respectful to all involved.
- 3) In consultation with the supervisor, the next step may be a meeting with all three of you (the mentor teacher, supervisor, and you). A principal or counselor may be included, at the discretion of the supervisor.
- 4) The next step is to involve the Program Director or a representative from the Office of Educator Development and Clinical Practice at the University of Louisville. You or the supervisor will contact this individual.
- 5) While your advisor is your personal contact at the University of Louisville, this individual is not the one to be involved in working with the teacher in the school unless the advisor is your university supervisor. The advisor may counsel you in how to handle the situation yourself, but typically it is the supervisor and Program Director who are able to work through these situations as individuals who work most closely in the placement context(s).
- 6) Only in very special circumstances are changes made to original field and/or clinical placements.
- 7) Keep in mind that the way you choose to handle this situation will have direct implications for how you are perceived as a professional and the kinds of professional dispositions you exemplify which, in turn, may positively or negatively impact whether you are hired as a teacher.

What NOT to do:

1. Do not share your concerns with other student teachers, field experience students or teachers at your school.
2. Do not let the problem fester for weeks.
3. Do not contact past supervisors or instructors.
4. Do not complain about what is NOT happening in your case (you can constructively rephrase in a way that communicates what you need in order to learn).
5. Do not gossip about your situation in public or social places where others may overhear or misconstrue your comments.

ROLE OF THE STUDENT TEACHER

The student teaching experience should be the most satisfying phase of your preparation for teaching. The opportunity to work directly with students in the classroom will provide a laboratory experience with many characteristics similar to that of your own future classroom. Although you have had opportunities to observe, participate, and perhaps teach in a classroom, full-time student teaching carries many additional responsibilities.

At the University of Louisville faculty and staff in the College of Education and Human Development attempt to prepare students to meet the challenges of the classroom with a varied program of professional and academic studies. It is impossible, however, to substitute course work for the actual experience of working with students. There will be periods of frustration and normal cycles of “lows” and “highs” during the student teaching period. How much is gained through this experience is largely up to the student teacher. The University supervisor and the cooperating teacher stand ready to help with any problem affecting the student teacher. This cooperative approach is intended to make available the best possible teaching experience for all students.

Each student teacher should approach student teaching with an honest and sincere desire to learn as much as possible about children and youth, the teaching profession, the teaching process, the school program, and the community. The experience is not intended to create a polished teacher, but the opportunities for growth in a real school situation are outstanding. To help “set the stage” for this meaningful experience, this chapter is dedicated to you, the student teacher.

Cooperating Teacher Selection: The classroom teacher will provide the vital link between theory and the practical application of your University training. The school district personnel and University staff collaborate to identify and select cooperating teachers. State regulation 16 KAR 5:040 outline the requirements for cooperating teachers. The cooperating teacher must hold a valid teaching certificate or license for each grade and subject taught and have a least three (3) years of teacher experience as a certified educator. Two other major criteria used in the selection of qualified cooperating teachers are exceptional performance as a teacher and a desire to supervise a student teacher.

Emergency Procedure: When a student teacher is involved in an emergency situation, the cooperating teacher and school principal should be notified immediately. The student teacher should become familiar with the school handbook to know procedural descriptors. If necessary to contact the University of Louisville, please notify the Assistant Dean of Student Services at 502-852-6411.

Should questions arise concerning a problem related to the extra-curricular activities of the student teacher, contact should be made at once with the university supervisor and Office of Educator Development and Clinical Practice.

Grade Appeals: The College of Education makes provisions for students to appeal a grade in student teaching that, in the student's opinion, is unfair. It becomes the student's responsibility to initiate the appeal procedure with the specific department, consult individual program handbooks and graduate and undergraduate catalogs in the appropriate sections.

Orientation: Many cooperating school systems have requested that student teachers arrange to visit the school for an interview and orientation before beginning student teaching. Upon receiving the school assignment, the student teacher will be encouraged to make a pre-visitation to the school. It is the student's responsibility to contact the cooperating teacher and principal by mail, telephone, or email.

Teaching—A Full-Time Responsibility: During student teaching, the student is expected to devote full attention to teaching in the assigned school. It is suggested that if employment is an absolute necessity, it should be kept to a minimum and confined to weekends only.

Termination of Student Teaching Contract: Student teachers are responsible for planning subject matter, maintaining professional relations with teachers and administrators, and working effectively with young people. Should the student teacher fail to meet any of these responsibilities, the school administration and/or the Office of Educator Development and Clinical Practice have the option to terminate the student teaching contract.

Transportation: Students operating motor vehicles are cautioned against using them for transporting students on field trips, special activities, etc. Should an accident occur during such transportation, the student teacher would be considered liable.

Planning for Teaching

When the student teacher receives notification of placement, the student teacher should plan to contact the university supervisor and cooperating teacher.

Induction into Full-Time Teaching—Prearranging: Effective planning is the basis of successful teaching. Planning that is truly meaningful cannot properly take place without goals and objectives related to the teaching-learning situation. It is most important that early planning be done with the aid and counsel of the cooperating teacher, under whose guidance a healthy working relationship must be established. The plans must include day-by-day objectives and long-range objectives so that the teacher is better able to chart the course through student teaching.

Co-teaching in the Classroom: It is important that student teachers or teacher candidates begin the experience as a partner in teaching. A teacher candidate is expected to collaborate in lesson planning, delivery, and assessment throughout the entire placement. Cooperating teachers and teacher candidates will utilize seven research-based strategies as best suited to maximize learning for all student within the classroom. [Copyright 2009, St. Cloud State University, Teacher Quality Enhancement Center]

If during the first days of student teaching, the teacher candidate utilizes the strategy, One Teach One Observe, the observations should be meaningful. . The student teacher should have specific things in mind to observe followed by a period of reflection and discussion with the cooperating teacher.

The questions below were designed to offer suggestions for the focus of your observations. This is not intended to be an exhaustive list, but some suggestions to get you started.

A. The Student

- Do you have available information about each student?
- Is there an opportunity to meet with the new students?
- How do students react to the school?
- What takes place in student conversations?
- Are you able to develop a good rapport with students?
- Is there positive interaction between students?
- How does your cooperating teacher record interest and self-concepts of students

- What techniques are used to discover individual differences?
- How does a teacher gain skill in working with students?

B. The Classroom

- How does the teacher secure needed supplies?
- How is the school day organized?
- How does the teacher distribute his/her time?
- How is student attention secured to start the lesson?
- What did the teacher do to create a learning environment?
- Do questions stimulate appropriate responses?
- Are assignments challenging?
- How are activities properly spaced within time allocation?
- What are problems of classroom management and how are they solved?
- How does the teacher anticipate behavior problems?

C. The School

- What is the structure and organization of the school?
- What kinds of teaching materials and aids are available?
- What special services are available (health, clerical, physical education, fine arts, speech and hearing, custodial, etc)?
- What process is used in ordering supplies and does each teacher have a supply budget?
- Are teachers involved in formulation of building regulations?
- How does the school serve the needs of the community?
- What kinds of parent activities exist and are teachers requested to serve on committees with parents?
- What is the general attitude of students toward schools?

D. The School System

- How is the school organized?
- What is the geographical area served by the school?
- Are there special programs available in the school system?

Student Teaching Orientation

Prior to student teaching, the Office of Educator Development and Clinical Practice will arrange a mandatory orientation program.

Evaluation

Evaluation is a collaborative process involving the teacher candidate (student teacher), cooperating teacher and university supervisor. The cooperating teacher will offer daily formative feedback during the period of student teaching. Over the course of the semester, a student teacher will be formally observed a minimum of six (6) times, three (3) observations for each placement or three by mid-semester and three by completion. A formal observation is one that the candidate schedules with the university supervisor or cooperating teaching in advance, provides a lesson plan, and teaches independently or as the lead teacher.

The university supervisor will set up four (4) official observations or two (2) for each placement. The cooperating teacher will set up two (2) official observations or one (1) for each placement. Teacher candidates should follow the KTIP PGES Lesson Plan Format in Live Text for all formal observations. This lesson plan includes the following:

- Source of Evidence: Context
- Source of Evidence: Lesson Plan
- Source of Evidence: Observation of Teaching
- Source of Evidence: Post-Lesson Reflection

While university supervisors may view the lesson plan templates in Live Text, the candidate must print out a copy for the cooperating teacher. The Steps to Completing a Formal Observation for Student Teachers should be followed (see page 52).

Teacher Candidate Observation Requirements

First Placement/Mid-Semester		Second Placement/Completion of Semester
University Supervisor	Two formal observations	University Supervisor	Two formal observations
Cooperating Teacher	One formal observation	Cooperating Teacher	One formal observation
Total	Three formal observations		Three formal observations
Candidates will be formally observed a minimum of six (6) times, three (3) observations for each placement or three by mid-semester and three by completion.

Dispositions Assessment

University of Louisville students who are in pre-service teaching roles are expected to contribute to the creation of a positive and effective climate with peers, teachers and faculty in field placements and U of L courses through professional dispositions and behaviors.

At mid-term and at completion, the university supervisor and cooperating teacher review the candidate's progress on key dispositions for teacher preparation and performance. This progress is captured through a Dispositions Assessment mapped to the Conceptual Framework. The candidate also self assesses and reviews the assessment with the cooperating teacher and university supervisor.

Student Teaching Grading Rubric

The Student Teaching Grading Rubric provides a format to clearly communicate the expectations and promote consistency among university supervisors and cooperating teachers. Student teacher candidates must demonstrate progress toward meeting the initial-level performance of the Kentucky Teaching Standards. The standards have been weighted based on their emphasis in student teaching and the related assessments. This rubric is designed to measure performance against standards to compile a point total. It is not percentage-based. A Student Teaching Grading Rubric will be completed at the end of each placement.

ROLE OF THE COOPERATING TEACHER

During the final phase of the Teacher Preparation Program, Teacher Candidates work with a Cooperating Teacher and a University Supervisor in order to demonstrate skills acquired in previous field experience placements and to begin to extend these abilities as they grow into the teaching profession. The cooperating teacher influences the quality of the student teaching experience more than any other single person. It is primarily the teacher who guides the student's professional growth.

The Teacher Candidate is defined as a U of L student who is completing an intensive clinical placement under the guidance and supervision of a cooperating teacher and a university supervisor.

The Cooperating Teacher is defined as a certified teacher who is mentoring a teacher candidate in the area in which the candidate is earning his/her certification. A minimum of 3 years teaching experience and completion of co-teaching training modules are required for eligibility.

The University Supervisor is defined as a U of L clinical faculty member or individual hired by the university to support, provide feedback, and assess a teacher candidate. The University Supervisor serves as a link between the cooperating school and the university.

A student may approach student teaching with hesitancy and considerable apprehension. Until the student teacher feels secure, his or her real feelings may not be disclosed. One student may wait for the cooperating teacher to indicate what to do; another may ask many questions; a third may follow the cooperating teacher like a shadow. Most student teachers are anxious to please and eager to learn.

During an initial conference, texts, curriculum guides, sample lesson plans, daily schedules, sample report cards, school handbooks, and other such materials should be made available to the student teacher.

The Student Teaching Experience lasts for approximately 15 weeks. Teacher candidates may have two placements (three for some contents) to meet state regulations. Cooperating teachers will be provided with the start and end date for each placement.

Pre-arrival Preparations

Cooperating teachers have found it important that their classes and the school be prepared for the arrival of the student teacher. The following are suggestions, which will be helpful:

- ✓ Explain to the students in your class that there will be two teachers in the classroom for a few weeks
- ✓ Point out that both teachers will have many different experiences to share with the class.
- ✓ Give examples of how the teaching team will work together (co-teaching)
- ✓ Explain that the students should look to both teachers for instruction and assistance, when appropriate.

Students need time to become adjusted to the idea of working with two teachers in the classroom. They will manifest the cooperating teacher's attitude toward the student teacher so be aware of your actions toward the teacher candidate. To help develop the status of the student teacher candidate as another teacher in the classroom, it is important to refer to the student teacher as "Mr. Robinson," "Miss Hardy," and the like, or as the "other teacher" rather than the "student teacher candidate."

Helping the Teacher Candidate Get Started

One of the cooperating teacher's first concerns is to help the teacher candidate feel secure in the new situation. Teacher candidates and cooperating teachers have listed the following suggestions as helpful:

- ✓ Establish a time to co-plan with the student teacher candidate.
- ✓ Accept the teacher candidate as a person. Establish rapport as soon as possible.
- ✓ Consider the teacher candidate as a member of the faculty. The teacher candidate should be included on faculty lists, taken to meetings, and encouraged to participate in committee work.
- ✓ Introduce the teacher candidate to school staff members.
- ✓ Design seating charts enabling the teacher candidate to identify students quickly.
- ✓ Provide a desk or a place for the teacher candidate's books and papers.
- ✓ Explain "formal" and "informal" classroom and school policies.
- ✓ Avoid correcting the teacher candidate in front of the students.
- ✓ Share daily chores.
- ✓ Provide an opportunity for the teacher candidate to have uninterrupted conferences with you.
- ✓ Provide an opportunity for the teacher candidate to teach units as you observe and assist.

Planning with the Teacher Candidate

The need for planning is fourfold: (1) to assist in clarifying the teacher candidate's purposes and procedures; (2) to learn of the expectations of the cooperating teacher; (3) to communicate the student's intentions to the cooperating teacher for constructive comments; and (4) to develop skills in lesson planning.

During the beginning days of student teaching, it is necessary to meet in order to begin the process of co-planning. Texts, curriculum guides, sample lesson plans, daily schedules, sample report cards, and school handbooks should be made available to the teacher candidate.

The cooperating teacher should give constructive criticism and provide adequate time for the teacher candidate to make suggested revisions to lesson plans. In addition to such informal conferences, about one hour per week should be set aside for an uninterrupted conference to evaluate progress toward goals, to reassess the plan for the unit and the next week, and to handle problems which have not already been discussed and solved.

The cooperating teacher should:

- ✓ Be specific. An anecdotal record of the teacher candidate's actual behavior, expressions used, timing, etc., will help the teacher candidate evaluate teaching effectiveness.
- ✓ Encourage self-evaluation. Ask such questions as "How well did you meet your lesson plan objectives?" "What is your evidence?"
- ✓ Give definite suggestions. Include in the suggestions, techniques for motivating students, presentation of materials, etc.
- ✓ Indicate successes as well as suggest improvements for the teacher candidate. Conferences with the teacher candidate may be planned to discuss things such as adjustment to the school, classroom routines, evaluation, observations, lesson planning, professional activities, teaching materials, or basic subject matter and the teacher candidate's personal problems.

A teacher candidate must be continually informed of the rate of progress being made so that the teaching ability can be compared with teaching potential. It is expected that the teacher candidate would then capitalize on strengths and work toward overcoming weaknesses.

Helping the Teacher Candidate Teach

The cooperating teacher may wish to consider the following suggestions to help the teacher candidate become more effective:

- ✓ The teacher candidate should have the opportunity to take the lead with instruction as often as possible.

- ✓ The teacher candidate should not feel that there is only one correct pattern of teaching, but should begin to acquire a repertoire of strategies.
- ✓ The teacher candidate will need help to see the students as individuals. The teacher candidate should develop keener perceptions of the students' needs, interests, and aptitudes. The cooperating teacher should provide the teacher candidate with seating charts, arrange work with individuals and small groups, hold frequent informal conferences, and encourage the teacher candidate to take advantage of opportunities to meet parents.
- ✓ The teacher candidate should realize that good teaching is creative. To achieve this creativity, the teacher candidate must feel that actions are not narrowly outlined by a teaching manual, textbook, cooperating teacher, or University Supervisor.
- ✓ The teacher candidate should be encouraged to use a wide variety of teaching techniques. Student and teacher demonstrations, laboratory work, group discussions, lectures, question-and-answer periods, directed study, audiovisual presentations and other meaningful experiences should be employed.

Above all, one must remember that the teacher candidate is learning to teach. A teacher candidate is expected to make some mistakes. If this were not true, there would be little need for student teaching. Often the teacher candidate will recognize his or her teaching weaknesses and modify the approach to a given situation. It is the function of the cooperating teacher and the University Supervisor to work together to provide needed assistance in this regard.

Observing the Teacher Candidate

Every teacher has favored ways of presenting an idea or concept, leading a discussion, motivating students, or handling discipline problems. Frequently, it is difficult to sit silently in the back of the room and watch a teacher candidate make mistakes or exercise what appears to be poor judgment. On the other hand, if the cooperating teacher interrupts, corrects and questions the teacher candidate in front of the class, the candidate soon loses the opportunity to develop and maintain rapport with the students. This situation can usually be avoided when the cooperating teacher and teacher candidate plan together.

The cooperating teacher will set up one (1) official observation during each placement or two (2) official observations if the teacher candidate remains throughout the semester. If your teacher candidate is with you for one placement only, then you will be completing only one official or formal observation using the assessment documents provided. Teacher candidates will use the KTIP PGES Lesson Plan Format in Live Text for all formal observations. This lesson plan includes the following:

- Source of Evidence: Context
- Source of Evidence: Lesson Plan
- Source of Evidence: Observation of Teaching
- Source of Evidence: Post-Lesson Reflection

You will be provided with a hard copy of the lesson plan at least two (2) days prior to the scheduled observation or the time you determine.

Activities Related to Classroom Teaching

While the primary purpose of student teaching is to provide an opportunity for the student to learn to teach in a specialized area, there should be an opportunity to experience as many aspects of the total teaching situation as time permits and engage in the co-teaching strategies as tools for instruction.

During the student teaching period, the teacher candidate may engage in as many of the following activities as possible:

- ✓ Observe teachers in a variety of academic disciplines.
- ✓ Study students' records in the presence of a certified employee -- cumulative records, achievement test scores, reading-grade-placement scores, etc.
- ✓ Seek supplementary materials that may be used to help present effective lessons -- books, models, charts, posters, filmstrips, community resources, etc.
- ✓ Provide help for a variety of students: the gifted, the learning disabled, those who have been absent, and those working on special projects.
- ✓ Involve students in experiences such as reading, writing, speaking, listening, and reasoning.
- ✓ Discuss grading standards and grading problems with the cooperating teacher.
- ✓ Become acquainted with library resources.
- ✓ Become acquainted with duties and responsibilities of administrative and special service personnel.
- ✓ Attend staff meetings.
- ✓ Administer achievement tests.
- ✓ Assist in supervision of study halls and homeroom.
- ✓ Become acquainted with school procedures in requesting equipment and supplies.
- ✓ Become acquainted with the total school program through conferences with the principal and the superintendent.
- ✓ Learn how to use the copier and media lab equipment.
- ✓ Participate in co-curricular and extra-curricular activities.

Assessment Requirements

Cooperating teachers will formally observe at least one lesson by mid-semester (end of the First Placement Period) and one lesson at the end of student teaching (end of the Second Placement Period). Please follow the Steps to Completing a Formal Observation. (See page 52). Teacher candidates will complete the Source of Evidence: Context Template and the Source of Evidence: Lesson Plan and provide the cooperating teacher will a hard copy. Feedback should be provided on the plan before the lesson is taught. During the observation of the lesson, cooperating teachers will provide feedback on Kentucky Teacher Standards and other standards appropriate for specific certifications as designated on the KTS Rubrics. The feedback will be discussed post-observation. The teacher candidate must complete the Source of Evidence: Post-Lesson Reflection within two days and provide the cooperating teacher with a hard copy of this reflection. Feedback should be provided to the candidate. Once the lesson has been planned, taught and a reflection written, the cooperating teacher completes the KTS Rubrics for the lesson. A link will be provided by the OEDCP from Qualtrics to access the rubrics for final assessment.

Cooperating teachers will also complete a Teacher Candidate Dispositions Assessment at mid-semester and at the end of student teaching and provide feedback to the university supervisor for the Effective Use of Technology Rubric. Cooperating teachers will receive an email from the OEDCP from Qualtrics with a link to complete the Dispositions Assessment.

At mid-semester (end of the First Placement Period) and at the end of student teaching, (end of the Second Placement Period), cooperating teachers will also complete a Student Teaching/Advanced Practicum Grading Rubric. While the Source of Evidence KTS Rubrics reflect on one observed lesson, the Student Teaching/Advanced Practicum Grading Rubric reports on the candidate's progress toward standards over time.

Tuition Benefit

The University of Louisville recognizes the valuable contribution teachers make in helping prepare pre-service teachers and supporting them during their internship experience. The tuition benefit policy established by the Kentucky Legislature (KRS Chapter 164.2845) states:

In recognition of valuable service to the preparation of teachers and the need for all teachers to have continual professional growth, a supervising teacher or a resource teacher for teacher interns may, with prior approval of the course-offering institution, take a maximum of six (6) credit hours per term at any public postsecondary institution and pay no tuition. The postsecondary institution shall waive the tuition up to a maximum of six (6) credit hours.

Tuition Benefit Certification Eligibility and Procedures Information

The University of Louisville recognizes the valuable contribution teachers make in helping prepare pre-service teachers and supporting them during their internship experience. The tuition benefit policy established by the Kentucky Legislature (KRS Chapter 164.2845) states:

In recognition of valuable service to the preparation of teachers and the need for all teachers to have continual professional growth, a supervising teacher or a resource teacher for teacher interns may, with prior approval of the course-offering institution, take a maximum of six (6) credit hours per term at any public postsecondary institution and pay no tuition. The postsecondary institution shall waive the tuition up to a maximum of six (6) credit hours.

The University of Louisville is pleased to offer a way of acknowledging the contributions of teachers by supporting this policy. The following information is to help clarify the parameters and procedures involved in offering the tuition benefits. Carefully review the following information and complete the attached certification form. Please note that the certification form is interactive and can be completed on the computer and then printed out for signature.

Eligibility

- YOU MUST BE ADMITTED TO THE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE
- You must be a teacher in the state of Kentucky
- You may be eligible for tuition benefits if you meet one of the following criteria:
  - You are a cooperating teacher providing the supervision of a student teacher
  - You are a Resource Teacher for a KTIP intern. KTIP Resource Teachers are required to complete two consecutive semesters of service; however, a form may be submitted at the completion of each semester.
- Credit hours earned have an expiration of one year. For example, if a teacher is a cooperating or resource teacher in the spring, those credit hours earned will expire the following spring. This gives the teacher three semesters (summer, fall, and spring) in which to use the benefit before the hours expire.

Procedures

ADMISSION TO THE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE IS REQUIRED BEFORE COMPLETING THE FOLLOWING:

- Complete the Tuition Benefit Certification Application for Cooperating and Resource Teachers available on the web at <https://whost.louisville.edu/student/services/fin-aid/devfinaid/tuitionwaivers/index.php>
- Return the Certification Application after the completion of your supervisory or resource role, principal signature included, to the Student Financial Aid Office. Completed applications must be received by the STUDENT FINANCIAL AID OFFICE BEFORE THE END OF THE REGULAR REGISTRATION PERIOD. All applications received after the regular registration period can be used for tuition in a subsequent term if eligible, but will not be honored for the current semester. Additionally, benefit hours cannot be redeemed during the semester in which the supervising or resource teacher is serving in that role.
- Email confirmation will be sent your University email account. The email will contain the number of hours earned, along with the semester of expiration. Hours are not valid or applicable until approval is received from the Student Financial Aid Office.
- Follow all regularly established procedures for applying for graduate studies, advising for programs, and registering for classes. REGISTRATION MUST BE COMPLETED BY THE LAST DAY OF THE REGULAR REGISTRATION PERIOD TO RECEIVE TUITION BENEFITS IN THAT SEMESTER. There must be available space within a given course offering. The University is not required to establish a course to meet teacher requests. No more than 6 credit hours of tuition benefits will be awarded in any given semester.
- Benefits will automatically be awarded for each semester you are enrolled until your eligibility ends. It is the responsibility of the supervising teacher to keep track of hours used and hours remaining. A new certification application is required when you have updated teaching information to provide.
- For additional information, contact Lindsay Driskell at lindsay.driskell@louisville.edu

ROLE OF THE UNIVERSITY SUPERVISOR

The university supervisors are essentially specialists in education and in their individual academic areas. Many have taught for a number of years in the public schools and have visited a variety of classrooms. A university supervisor will be assigned to every student teacher from the University of Louisville.

The university supervisor is a link between the cooperating school and the University. The student teacher, the cooperating teacher, and the university supervisor function as a team as they work to implement effective learning procedures and create professional working relationships.

The university supervisor recognizes that the primary responsibility of the cooperating teacher is to provide an effective learning situation for the students. If the activities of the student teacher are not conducive to effective learning, the student teacher must adjust techniques or perhaps be reassigned or even withdrawn from student teaching.

Preparation for Student Teaching

Many additional responsibilities of the University supervisor are fulfilled prior to the student teaching term, including the following:

- The university supervisor meets with prospective student teachers during the student teaching experience to become better acquainted and function more effectively with them.
- The university supervisor prepares the students for entrance into student teaching by explaining the role of the student teacher in the school and the expectations of the school administration, the cooperating teacher, and the University staff.

School Visits

The purpose of the university supervisor's visits is to observe the student engaged in the teaching process and to help the student attain a satisfactory professional experience. In addition to observing and meeting with the student, the university supervisor confers with the cooperating teacher. The university supervisor also completes a final evaluation at the end of the student teaching period in conjunction with the cooperating teacher.

Observations of Teacher Candidates

Observations refer to the actual presence of the university supervisor. Although the minimum number of visits is four, it is not unusual for a candidate to be visited several times in addition to the minimum.

During these periods, the university supervisor observes the candidate's progress in meeting Kentucky Teacher Standards. In addition, the candidate's teaching methods and techniques in the subject matter area are observed. The university supervisor will set up four (4) official observations or two (2) for each placement. University supervisors follow the Steps to Completing a Formal Observation provided in this handbook.

After observing the classes, the university supervisor meets privately with the candidate to discuss the student's general progress and to offer constructive advice. All comments and constructive suggestions should be based on the principle that the university supervisor is to help the student develop and improve as a teacher. The student will be encouraged to discuss openly and frankly all phases of the teaching situation.

Dispositions Assessment: At mid-term and at completion, the university supervisor reviews the candidate's progress on key dispositions for teacher preparation and performance. This progress is captured through a Dispositions Assessment, which is mapped to the Conceptual Framework. The candidate also self assesses and reviews the assessment with the cooperating teacher and university supervisor.

When possible the university supervisor meets with the candidate and the cooperating teacher in a three-way conference to discuss the candidate's progress in meeting state standards and dispositions. In such conferences all are encouraged to speak openly and frankly about any and all phases of the student's work. When appropriate university supervisor may e-mail the cooperating teacher with concerns.

Relationship with School Officials

The presence of the university supervisor is always made known to the school office when visiting and, when possible communicates directly with the principal.

Student Teaching Grading Rubric

The final responsibility for the assignment of a grade in student teaching rests with the university supervisor. The grade is based upon direct observations, written lesson plans, the conferences described previously, other program-specific requirements and the evaluation form completed by the cooperating teacher.

Resource Assistance

University supervisors welcome opportunities to describe the student teaching program and to serve as a consultant. Occasionally, the superintendent or the principal may wish to have the university supervisor share formally with a group of teachers some of the recent research results, teaching techniques, activities, or other developments in the university supervisor's area of specialty. This activity may be arranged for the school staff by the principal or department head and the university supervisor.

Steps to Completing a Formal Observation

1. Teacher candidate schedules a formal observation with cooperating teacher/university supervisor. Cooperating teacher/supervisor verifies the time and day.

2. Teacher candidate completes the template for Source of Evidence: Context and the template for Source of Evidence: Lesson Plan in Live Text and provides a hard copy to the cooperating teacher at least two (2) days prior to the scheduled observation. University supervisor has access through Live Text.

3. Cooperating teacher/university supervisor provides feedback on the lesson plan by completing the rubric for the Source of Evidence: Lesson Plan*. The rubric for the Source of Evidence: Context cannot be completed until the lesson has been taught and assessed.

4. Teacher candidate teaches the lesson. Cooperating teacher/supervisor completes the Source of Evidence: Observation of Teaching* and shares evidence captured on the rubric for the Observation of Teaching at a post-observation conference..

5. Teacher candidate completes template for Source of Evidence: Post Lesson Reflection within two (2) days of the taught lesson and provides the cooperating teacher with a hard copy. University supervisor will have access through Live Text. Cooperating teacher/university supervisor completes the rubric for Post Lesson Reflection.***

6. Cooperating teacher/university supervisor completes the rubric for Source of Evidence: Context***

7. Cooperating teacher will receive an email from the OEDCP with instructions on how to access and complete the rubrics for the Sources of Evidence***.

8. University supervisor will complete the rubrics for the Sources of Evidence in Live Text.
*Teacher candidates can access the rubrics to see feedback from university supervisor in Live Text.

\ Cooperating teachers/university supervisors must complete all four (4) Sources of Evidence Rubrics on hard copies or electronic submission to share with the candidate throughout the Formal Observation Process. Upon completion of the Formal Observation, the evaluator will enter the results of all rubrics into the database (LiveText or Link provided by OEDCP).*

Collaborative Leadership Project

Purpose

The Student Teaching Leadership Project will provide an opportunity for you to “give back” to the school community that will help to support your student teaching experience. The project will also provide an opportunity for you to demonstrate those indicators for Kentucky Teaching Standard 10: Provides Leadership within School/Community/Profession.

Description

With the support of your cooperating teacher, department chair, team leader and/or university supervisor, select a project that will work for your school community. Your project should not demand more than an eight- to ten- (8-10) hour commitment from you. One way you can gauge your time is to consider both preparation and implementation. If the project really involves your showing up to pitch in on an activity that someone else is organizing, plan to put in 8-10 hours. If you are planning and preparing materials for an event, those 8-10 hours may include 4 hours of planning and 4 hours of implementation or presentation time.

Appropriate Contexts for the Project

1. Provide support for or participate in an after-school function or club:
  - a. Tutoring
  - b. School play
  - c. Academic clubs (e.g., debate, math, chess, etc.)
  - d. Sports team
2. Organize or participate in a school-based service project:
  - a. Assisting a classroom teacher in preparing a workshop.
  - b. Organizing an environmental project (e.g., campus cleanup)
  - c. Participate or assist in organizing an educational “Fair” for students or a parent event.
3. Participate in a community or professional organization:
  - a. After school program for academic support
  - b. Co-present a workshop or a session for a conference.
  - c. Volunteer at an education-based community center (e.g., Blackacre, YMCA, or the Louisville Zoo).

Sample Projects

This project is meant to complement, not compete with, your student teaching. Planning and teaching in the classroom is your priority. Narrow the scope of your project from the outset. Connect the project to your teaching field or to an educational purpose. NOTE: This project is to involve a NEW leadership experience. It is NOT appropriate to use an activity in which you are already engaged.

Non-examples (because of time commitment required OR because of non-educational purpose):

- Coach a sport (not even an intramural one).
- Serve as an assistant director for the school play.
- Chaperone a school dance.
- Sell “Band Candy.”
- Teach Sunday School
- Serve as a Big Brother or Big Sister

Examples:

- Schedule 10 60-minute after-school tutoring sessions for one (1) or more members of a sports team to help them improve their grades.
- Serve as a dramaturg to explain the play that the drama club will be presenting and discuss it with the actors over the course of 1-3 play practices.
- Help plan and facilitate a Parent Information Night, such as “What Your Child is Learning About in _____ (subject) This Year.”
- Prepare and facilitate a Saturday session for ACT/SAT or other test prep in your subject area.
- Prepare and facilitate an after-school workshop on writing essays for college scholarship competitions.
- Help the Environmental Club determine an effective strategy for measuring the amount of recyclable materials that are thrown away by students and staff each day. Assist in data collection and analysis.
- In consultation with the sponsor or coach of an academic team, plan a special presentation or short series of presentations that will develop students’ skills or knowledge (problem-solving tips, persuasive strategies, technology applications, etc.).
- Find an appropriate contest (local, state, or national) related to your teaching field. Publicize it; provide an informational session and, if appropriate, a “help” session during which students can develop their entries; and assist students in submitting their entries.
- Assist with a specific issue or component of a school publication.

Project Timeline:

1. Throughout the process, document your planning as well as the steps you take to complete the project. Keep notes of any meetings.
2. Think about the skills you have to offer. Brainstorm several possible student teacher leadership project ideas.
3. Discuss your project ideas with your cooperating teacher. Ask who else might have suggestions or might be interested in your assistance (e.g., department chair, coach, team leader, counselor, principal). Make contacts as needed. If other U of L student teachers are in your school setting and have a common interest, you may collaborate. Clearly delineate each person’s role and document your agreement in writing.
4. Finalize the project focus and prepare an overview that explains the purpose, suggests a schedule, and provides basic details (who/what/when/where/how). Describe how you will document your work as well as how you will elicit feedback.
5. Present the potential project to your cooperating teacher and university supervisor for their feedback and endorsement.
6. Obtain principal approval. This will be a wonderful opportunity to have a meaningful conversation with the principal while showcasing your leadership.
7. Implement the project, keeping to the proposed schedule or discussing changes, as needed with your cooperating teacher or other staff members with whom you may be working.
8. Collect programs, brochures, and newspaper clippings, if appropriate. Take pictures, if appropriate.
9. Complete the leadership documentation form in LiveText to present to your university supervisor. Your work will be scored using the attached rubric. This documentation also will be used as you are evaluated on Standard 10 on the Student Teaching Grading Rubric.

Based on Kentucky Teacher Internship Program (KTIP) for use in Phase 4 of the U of L Developmental Teacher Preparation (DTP) Model. Please use this as you observe a lesson and share with U of L candidate after the lesson.

Student Teaching/Advanced Practicum Grading Rubric

Student Teacher Candidate: _____ ID: _____ Date: _____

Placement/Level: _____ Cooperating Teacher: _____ University Supervisor: _____

Name of person completing form: _____ FINAL GRADE _____

The culminating experience of the U of L Developmental Teacher Preparation Model is designed for student teacher candidates to demonstrate progress toward meeting the initial-level performance of the Kentucky Teaching Standards. Evaluation of the student teaching experience is a collaborative process involving the teacher candidate, cooperating teacher and university supervisor. The determination of the grade for student teaching is influenced by daily informal observation on the part of the cooperating teacher and formal evaluations by the cooperating teacher and university supervisor. Teacher Candidate Dispositions assessments are also considered in the final evaluation. The Student Teaching Grading Rubric provides a format that clearly communicates to students the expectations and promotes consistency among university supervisors and cooperating teachers. This rubric is designed to measure performance against standards to compile a point total. It is not percentage-based. A Student Teaching Grading Rubric will be completed at the end of each placement.

A A grade of an "A" indicates that evidence supports that the student teacher candidate has demonstrated overall TARGET/EXEMPLARY performance toward meeting the knowledge and skills indicated on the Kentucky Teaching Standards (KTS) and has scored at the ACCEPTABLE level of performance on the Teacher Candidate Dispositions Assessment. The grade of an "A" also indicates that the candidate has demonstrated TARGET performance in the following KTS Standards: 1, 2, 3 and 4. Score range is 27-30.

Score: _____

B A grade of a "B" indicates that evidence supports that the student teacher candidate has demonstrated TARGET with some DEVELOPING performance toward meeting the knowledge and skills indicated on most of the Kentucky Teaching Standards and has scored at the ACCEPTABLE level of performance on the Teacher Candidate Dispositions Assessment. The grade for a "B" also indicates that the candidate has demonstrated TARGET performance in the following KTS Standards: 1, 2, 3 and 4. Score range is 22-26.

Score: _____

C A grade of a "C" indicates that evidence supports that the student teacher candidate has demonstrated overall DEVELOPING performance toward meeting the knowledge and skills indicated on most of the Kentucky Teaching Standards and has scored at the IMPROVING/ACCEPTABLE level of performance on the Teacher Candidate Dispositions Assessment. Score range is 18-21.

Score: _____

A plus "+" or minus "-" designation may be given at the discretion of and in collaboration with all evaluative partners.

Two established protocols exist to ensure that student teachers have due process in addressing concerns for demonstrating progress toward meeting the KTS Standards and/or Teacher Candidate Dispositions. A Communication of Concern must be initiated to address concerns as they arise. An Intensive Assistance Plan is initiated to address more serious concerns and maps out a detailed plan of support. Documentation of these protocols is needed for candidates who fall into the "C" performance level.

Candidates demonstrating a weak or inadequate performance (17 or lower) are not making sufficient progress toward meeting initial-level performance of the Kentucky Teaching Standards and/or the Teacher Candidate Dispositions and will not be recommended for certification. The members of the Intensive Assistance Plan Committee will discuss options that may exist for graduation without certification.

Also, describe the higher order questions/ differentiated tasks you are using to challenge students, instructive feedback you may give the students to help them elaborate on responses, and formative assessments (how will check for understanding of content throughout the lesson?).

Closure/Generalization:

Describe how you will close the lesson (closure should include more than an assessment). Review the objectives/ main ideas of the lesson. Again, tie the content back to real life activities (how are these skills relevant to students). Preview what you will be working on the next day. Include an opportunity for students to evaluate their own performance.

RESOURCE MANAGEMENT

Classroom Management Tips	144
Developing a Rubric	145
Guide to Reflective Lesson Analysis	145

CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT

Achieving order and creating interpersonal classroom relationships are not separate issues. Classroom management has a significant impact on student performance. Effective classroom management will necessitate an assortment of specific strategies and knowledge of individual students. As two of the Kentucky Teacher Standards, 3) Creates and Maintains a Learning Climate and 4) Implements and Manages Instruction, include indicators related to management, candidates should reflect about personal management skills and how to apply them to minimize problems and facilitate learning.

The following factors are desirable when establishing a climate conducive to learning,

- 1) Communication of high expectations alerts students to recognition of positive actions; academic and behavioral expectations should be established in conjunction with the cooperating teacher.
- 2) Consistency in adhering to expectations helps to sustain a productive learning environment. Inappropriate behaviors that derail learning are counterproductive. Consequences should be immediate in administration of class/school rules.
- 3) A mutually respectful classroom enhances the learning process. This does not imply the absence of rules; rather it suggests clear expectations for all.
- 4) Students should be encouraged to develop self-control and accept responsibility for their learning in order to progress. Self-management strategies such as setting goals for behavior, monitoring behavior using a checklist and evaluating progress over time have resulted in improvement. Teacher-student discussion of issues would be a good starting point for resolution. Prevention of misbehaviors is as important as correction of misbehaviors.

CHARACTERISTICS OF A QUALITY RUBRIC

A good rubric should eliminate subjectivity in determination of grades, and be specific to the assignment when possible. A general rubric may be created for use in scoring homework assignments.

The rubric should:

Describe desired qualities of student performance.

Specify 3-6 performance levels.

State clearly expectations of performance for each level.

Explicitly distinguish one performance level from another.

<http://rubistar.com/> is a resource for creating effective rubrics.

GUIDE TO REFLECTIVE LESSON ANALYSIS

For professional growth to occur candidates need to develop analytic ability regarding classroom performance and transfer this analysis to journal entries required by each program. As analysis and reflection are also integral to the Kentucky New Teacher Standards, this practice will prepare candidates for expectations during the internship year. Critical reflection and analysis involves more than descriptors of lesson design elements. Both the cooperating teacher and the university supervisor will look for indicators of self-analysis when discussing lesson presentation. Possible questions to promote introspection are:

- 1) Why were some students engaged but not others?
- 2) Did anything happen to upset the classroom routine?
- 3) Was the physical environment of the classroom arranged to assist or impede the learning process?
- 4) How can you create a learning climate to better impact the teaching/learning process?
- 5) What strategies were utilized in addressing low achieving students, diverse learners, and students with special needs? Were they effective?
- 6) What did you learn from this lesson presentation that will help you become a better teacher?
- 7) What is your management philosophy?

KENTUCKY TEACHER INTERNSHIP PROGRAM

<http://louisville.edu/education/ktip>

The Kentucky Teacher Internship Program was designed to offer support to new teachers and encourage a culture of continuous professional growth. Using the New Teacher Standards adopted by Kentucky's Education Professional Standards Board (EPSB) in 1993, KTIP facilitates the transition from teacher preparation through induction. A three-member committee comprised of the school principal, a resource teacher, and a university-appointed teacher educator guide and assesses the intern's progress throughout the first year of teaching.

While adhering to basic precepts in place since 1985, the KTIP process and training have been altered to accommodate mandated changes effective with school year 2008-09. The program is now called the KTIP Teacher Performance Assessment (TPA). TPA is a series of ten teaching tasks designed to provide opportunity for demonstration of Kentucky's Teaching Standards.

Commonly Asked Questions about KTIP

- 1) Who must participate in KTIP? KRS 161.030 mandates that all new teachers and out-of-state teachers with less than two years of successful teaching experience who are seeking initial certification in Kentucky must serve a one-year internship.
- 2) How does a new teacher become an intern? Anyone who has completed an approved educator preparation program, passed assessments approved by EPSB, and applied to the Division of Certification for a teaching certificate may be issued a Statement of Eligibility that is valid for five years. After the teacher secures employment in an approved public or accredited non-public school in Kentucky, the Confirmation of Employment on the back of the Statement of Eligibility must be completed and forwarded to the Division of Professional Learning and Assessment. A one-year teaching certificate will then be issued for the teaching assignment.
- 3) Who assigns committee members? Statute specifies that the building principal or his/her designee will chair the committee. The resource teacher usually is a certified teacher in the building where the intern is teaching; the resource teacher may or may not be familiar with the particular grade level/subject that the intern is teaching. The resource teacher is appointed by the school district. The university representative, referred to as the teacher educator, will be appointed by the KTIP regional coordinator. It is the responsibility of this committee to guide the intern toward successful completion of the first year of teaching.
- 4) How significant are recommendations made by the committee? The committee will focus on demonstration of state standards of performance, therefore the intern should be especially cognizant of recommendations for improvement in performance that relate to standards. As the standards reflect best practice in teaching, it is desirable that intern behaviors mirror expectations specific to the standards.

PROTOCOL FOR REQUESTING LETTERS OF REFERENCE

Most school districts ask for three to five references of letters or letters of recommendation. Following are guidelines that may be helpful:

ASK FIRST: Do not list someone unless you have asked if they are willing to serve as a reference.

CONSIDER WELL IN ADVANCE WHO YOU WILL ASK. Avoid requesting at the last minute for a reference. Allow time for a considered response.

PROVIDE A CURRENT RESUME when asking for a letter of reference or recommendation as it will provide additional information. Also provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WRITE A THANK YOU NOTE to those from whom you requested a reference. Inform them of the outcome of your job search.
